Letter From Florida and Cuba.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Jan. 30, '99.
Editor Roundabout:

I stopped so suddenly in my former communication I do not feel satisfied to leave you and your readers without giving you more fully a history of what I saw and heard on this trip.

I was never below Rockledge, on the east coast, until this trip. Then there was no railroad below Titusville, the county seat of Brevard county, where the Republican politicians met at the time and just after the election between Tilden and Hayes and arranged and prepared and did beat Tilden and the Democratic party out of a fairly won election. Rockledge is some twenty or more miles below Titusville, and as far down then as visitors went. In the past few years Mr. Flugler has built a road down the east coast 250 or 300 miles to Miami, and has built a great number of hotels at most of the stations along the road. For grandeur and beauty of surroundings it surpasses anything in Florida. The west coast until the last few years was the attraction, but Flugler has gotten away with this route, which was established by Mr. Plant, which is known as the Plant line road, and steamer to Havana. The east coast now has a line of steamers from Miami to Key West, from Miami to Havana, and from Miami to Nassau, built on one of the many islands of the Bahamas. It is very costly traveling in Florida. The railroads charge four cents a mile, but if travelers will ask for a receipt from the R. R. agent when he gets a ticket, and will send it to the State Railroad Commission, they will send him a check or rebate of one cent a mile.

From Miami to Key West is 165 miles. This is one of the points that Miles & Son have never sold flour. My object in going there, as I believe I stated in my former letter, was to establish a trade or demand for our flour, which I did, and hope to make it a paying trip in the final end.

Key West is situated on one of the many islands at the extreme southern end of Florida, which your readers all doubtless know. The largest portion of the inhabitants are composed of Cubans, and the great bulk of them cannot speak English. They are called cancos, so called from eating the animal they get from the shells so called along the coast. They are principally cigar makers. This place has no trade except with themselves, and the vessels coming in and going. The government spends a great deal of money here yearly, and has been doing so for a great many years, building what is called a jetty, to protect the channel for vessels coming in and going out. Besides, it now building several large forts.

The old forts here, I think, have proved to be practically worthless since the improved navy guns have been invented in the last few years.

At Key West while there the government sold a lot of provisions that were left after moving the troops away that were stationed there. In this sale was d,400 barrels of flour; 100 or more barrels of molasses and rice and other things. It was claimed that weevil and worms had gotten in the flour. I examined it, but found nothing wrong with it. It was sold for a mere song. Flour, rice and molasses were in fact almost given away. Some one was to blame for the party or parties having control of it had to do their duty. This war has been a money making scheme from start to finish.

I will finish up this scribble, it being a continuation of my former letter, by enclosing a clipping from the Times Union and Citizen of this place. It will be somewhat of a repetition of what I have already written, but will show you and the readers of the ROUNDABOUT that others look at Havana exactly as I do.

The hotel named was the one in which I stopped. The excursion is similar, the route taken the same; hence, by adding this, it will save me a great deal of writing, but I think it will be interesting to your readers.

There is much activity in business and hundreds of Americans, those from Florida and other southern States predominating, are embarking in trade. The use of both American and Spanish money creates some confusion. The rate of exchange fluctuates from day to day. For an American $5 gold piece or an American $5 bill the money changers will give Spanish silver at the rate of $4.40 or more of the dollar. Immediately landing tourists should provide themselves with Spanish money, although even at this early day many places of business trade altogether in American money.

CUBA ON A ROOM.

Trade at present is unsettled, so far as stability is concerned. No one doubts that Havana and the entire island is on a boom. It is but natural that the time shall come when it will settle down to a normal condition, after which business will become more stable. American imports, such as, a rule, are not regulated with the financial status of men in business here. There is no Bradstreet or Dune to refer to for rating. Then again, it has been learned that many houses here trade on long credit after the open plan, and this is but the method with which various follow in business. Yet many of the firms are well-known. There are some who make it a habit to discount their bills, and with some of these the Jacksonville merchants have already opened up trade relations.

Judging from the experience of Americans who come to Havana for business or pleasure, the general idea of the place is quite different from what it really is. It is not quite so slow as one might imagine. Then again, the Cuban Government is calculating to annual. It would be almost impossible to find a building, either store or residence, that is constructed entirely of wood. Nearly all the structures are of a coralline and cement substance, as solid and as durable as stone, though not quite so dark and heavy. The style of architecture is purely Spanish. First narrow streets and sidewalks predominate, yet there are a number of open parks and boulevards. The sidewalks are covered, the second story of the buildings being supported by columns. In the center of each street, doorways and windows, like the ceilings inside, are high and white. Window sashes and glass are unknown. The front door opens, in nearly every case, into a court, and the windows are of iron grating. The best houses have been built about the disadvantage under which the Cuban young men labor in courting their lady love, but his bashfulness should not be so great as it is pictured, for the reason that the bars are rather wide apart, and there is room for a squeeze or a kiss under the moonlight.

A DAY OF SIGHT-SEEING.

There is much sightseeing to be done in and about the quiet and peaceful. In this the Jockey Club, a branch of business will go home with a record to boast of. What follows is but the work of a part of one day. In the office of the Grand Hotel Pasaje, at which the Jacksonville aggregation is staying, was posted a notice at 1:30 in the afternoon of a first-class trip for the sum of two American dollars, and at the appointed hour a dozen or more gentlemen selected six cars to go with the party. A drive of half an hour took the crowd through the western part of the city, and the first point visited was the botanical gardens and summer residence of the Cuban Captain-General. The grounds were a veritable paradise, the great, tall royal palms being the most conspicuous. The Jacksonvillians went all through the palace, now vacant, and which was occupied by Captain-General Weyler. The drive from the botanical gardens to the cemetery Christopher Columbus, was a really beautiful road and through a fertile country. To the Americans the chief point of interest was the little plot of grass under which the victims of the battle of Malma lay. Not one hundred yards away stands an elaborate marble monument, carved by noted Italian sculptors and erected by the city of Havana at a cost of more than $100,000, in recognition of the bravery of sixty-nine frenemen who lost their lives in an explosion. Over the graves of the heroes of the Malma there is not even a wooden slab to mark their resting place. Going from the cemetery the party then went to the talk of the guide that the city was deeply impressed in the minds of the good American citizens from Jacksonville, all feeling that the Maine heroes deserve a lasting and substantial monument.

THE "BONE YARD."

While standing upon the bones of thousands upon thousands of human beings in the cemeteries known as the "bone yards" the lovers and upholders of free American institutions, political, social and religious, were shocked at the knowledge that a civilized people could tolerate such a desecration of the dead. In time beyond knowledge it became the custom of the Spanish Government to bury remains per annum for space in the cemetery from those who are unable to buy a burial plot. Should a family die out before scattered poverty-stricken, or for any reason the annual tribute of a dollar was not forthcoming, the remains of those interred in the common plots of "God's acre" were dug up and cast into the bone yard. This place is surrounded by a wall about six feet high with a wooden gate as an entrance. It is not more than 100 feet square but very deep. The bones and skulls of human beings, even to this day, are carted to this bone yard and dumped upon the heap, which is fully thirty feet deep or even more. So recent have some of the transfers been made that human hair of all shades can be seen lying amid the bones.

After walking about on the count less remains of the dead and taking a few snap-shots and mementos to prove to friends at home that such a thing really existed, the delegation left the gruesome sight on the return trip to the city. The drive this time was through the city, which had many shore batteries and fort erected by Spain to defend the city against American invasion. The ride was interesting and picturesque. Occasionally the party would meet evidences of Cuban poverty in little villages where houses were built. Others would hold out their hands for a penny, but begging is rapidly on the decline. The United States Government is furnishing the deserving and needy families with rations and soon there will be no more want.

HAVANA CATHEDRAL.

Havana Cathedral was next visited. The entire party left the carriages and entered. The niche where the alleged bones of Columbus reposed until taken away by the Spaniards a century ago was pointed out by the guide. The Spaniards kindly left a marble wreath that still occupies a position above where the bones reposed. But they did not hesitate to take the handsome Columbus monument that stood in the body of the cathedral. The marble base is still there.

I will leave here to-morrow morning for Savannah, Ga., and other points as I have stated. I cannot get home before the 10th or 15th of February, if then.

Yours truly,
JOHN E. MILES.

Suffered 20 Years.

MRS. MARY LEWIS, wife of a prominent farmer, and well known by all old residents near Belmont, N. Y. "For twenty-seven years I had been a constant sufferer from rheumatism, and paid large sums of money for doctors and advertised remedies without benefit. Three years ago my condition was alarming; the least noise would startle and unnerve me, and I was unable to sleep, had a constant sinking in the heart, which grew worse. I began using Dr. Miles' Remedy, and Nervine and Liver Pills. At first the medicine seemed to have no effect, but after taking a few bottles I began to notice a decided improvement. My strength, my appetite began to improve and I am much better, until now I am as nearly restored to health as one of my age may expect. God bless Dr. Miles' Nervine."

Good News.

The many warm friends of Rev. Dr. Howard A. M. Henderson in this city, will be glad to know that he is convalescent after five months suffering from an attack of tropical fever, contracted while with his regiment (1st Ohio Volunteer Infantry) in Cuba. The disease was complicated with others, which renders his recovery more slow than would otherwise be the case.

It will be some months before Dr. Henderson will be able to resume his place in his pulpit.

Dr. Henderson is deservedly popular here, where he lived so long, and his recovery will be a source of joy to many.

Hits the Nail Squarely on its Head.

The Evening Times, of Tuesday, has the following to say of the mass-back Senators who voted to reject the treaty. It hits the nail squarely on the head and clinches it on the under side:

"Every word said in the Senate in praise of that corrupt agitator, Aguirre, and every moment of delay in ratifying the treaty afforded direct encouragement to the disaffected elements in Cuba and Porto Rico.

As Senator Morgan declared there is no question that Aguirre was led to believe that he had powerful backing in this country, though, as Senator Stewart stated, in traveling from the far west to Washington he did not meet a single individual who opposed the immediate ratification of the treaty. The Southern people were hardly less unanimous in its favor.

The eastern section of the country was equally so. Upon what rational ground the obstructionists in the Senate based their opposition is difficult to determine. Not an argument was advanced by them worthy of a moment's consideration.

They simply, blindly and foolishly played a desperate game and lost it."

Colored Recruits.

The War Department has wired Lieut. W. T. Johnston, recruiting officer at Lexington, Ky., to enlist colored applicants for cavalry and infantry service, sending the former to Fort Grant, Arizona, and the latter to Fort Douglas, Salt Lake City.

This is an excellent opportunity for young colored men to get into the regular army.

Recruits for white infantry and cavalry regiments are also wanted.

Apply to Lieut. W. T. Johnson, Main street, Lexington, Ky.

Fire Thursday.

The residence of Judge A. R. Burman, on West Main street, was slightly damaged by fire on Thursday. The woodwork under the floor caught from a furnace, but it was soon extinguished. The loss was covered by insurance.

To Be Sold Again.

In the U. S. Court of Appeals, at Cincinnati, on Tuesday, the R. N. & B. Railroad was ordered to be sold again by Commissioner DuBois, thus affirming Judge Barr's decision.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run down feeling. But there's no need to tell the story. Listen to Dr. W. Gardner, Idaville, and he says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents, at J. W. Gayle's Drug Store. Every bottle guaranteed.

Letter From Cuba.

We give below a letter from one of our Frankfort boys now with the Third Kentucky Volunteers in Cuba. It is from Private August Szymanski, son of Mr. Alex Szymanski:

MATANZAS, CUBA.

Dearest Mother, Father and all;

At last we are in Cuba. We were packing up for a week in Columbus, Ga., and we left on Tuesday, January 18th, and arrived at Savannah, Ga., on the 19th. We had to load on the transport Minnewaska, and we were loaded by 9 o'clock that night. We pulled out to sea at 11 o'clock. Our transport was a very large one. We were on the water two days and two nights. The first day I got seasick, but the next day I was all right. We had hammocks to sleep in. The last morning we were on the boat the sea was pretty rough. The waves were higher than a two story house. There were fish bigger than a man. You could see them jump out of the water. The sea was so clear you could see the bottom.

When we landed here at Matanzas I was on a detail to help with the mules, and was one of the first out of the Third Kentucky to land. It was a pretty hard thing to understand.

The first morning we were on land we could not get anything to eat, and we were so hungry we stole some canned bacon and ate it raw, with water and hard tack.

Last night we put some bacon in a can and put it away and this morning we could not eat it and we threw it away. A Cuban child came along and picked it up and took it home. You can see Cuban children picking up bread crumbs the soldiers throw away. Women, with babies in their arms, come around the camp and pick up stale stuff and eat it. I saw some children over here and they look like skeletons. They have very little flesh on them. They have been starved. It would make you laugh to talk to these people. They try to learn us Cuban talk, and we try to learn them the American. There was a Cuban here this morning learning us to talk, but all we could do was to make signs. It is lots of fun to be around them. They are white, brown and black as ink.

There are some fine looking people here. Some of them dress like they have money to burn, and the lower class almost go naked and starve to death.

I don't know what day this is or the date of the month, but yesterday I took a stroll over a hill for about two miles and we came to a green banana patch and went a little further and came to a coconut orchard. We came to a lemon bush and got about fifty lemons off one bush. They grow something like a gooseberry bush. The bananas grow on a high stalk, one bunch on a stalk. The coconuts on a high tree. The top is something like a cornstalk and on top of that is the tree and coconuts. I have not seen any orange trees but some of the boys brought some to camp and ate them, but they were not quite ripe.

I went to a Cuban home and they made motions for me to come in and I went in and it looked like olden times. Just the same as you see pictures of olden times. This house had no floor, but they were as comfortable as we are in their olden time house.

I also saw a place where they make lime, and if you would see this place you would think you were at a show. The Cubans work for Uncle Sam and we don't work much. They do the most of it; they are the best people to work I ever saw. The ground, as far as I have seen, is something like a limestone rock and is very rocky at some places. Where we are camped is grass and weeds, but they burn up in a week from the hot sun. This is a bad place for shoes. You can wear a pair of shoes out in a walk on this rocky ground. It cuts the leather like a knife.

The weather is fine over here. In the middle of the day it is about 100 in the shade and in the evening and at night it is cool. At night you have to cover with two blankets to keep warm. In daytime you almost have to go naked. I think this is a fine place. I am satisfied so far. The only thing that bothers me is the day of the week and the date of the month. I don't know what today is and can't find any one who does know.

This is not our camp. We are here for two or three weeks; we go to Colon, a town about thirty-five miles from here. We are waiting on our baggage. The ship has to be unloaded first and then we leave for Colon. We will go by railroad. We are camped in dog tents on the side of a fort, captured by the Americans, on the Matanzas bay. We had a pose in review in the city this morning, and it surprised me. There are some fine houses in the town, they are one and two stories high. They have no windows, only iron bars like a jail or prison. Inside they have as nice a place as any body. They have some of the finest furniture you ever saw. They paint the houses just like they do in Kentucky. The streets are narrow and are laid like a brick street.

There are some groceries of all kinds and any thing you want here. The streets are lighted by electric lights. It is the prettiest place I ever saw.

When we were coming back from the review we came near having trouble with the 12th New York Regiment, but it quieted down. This is the regiment that caused the trouble in Lexington, Ky., when we were camped there.

I have just found out the date of the month and the day of the week. It is Monday. I shall this to-day, the 23rd. This is all I have to write this time. Will tell you all I see and all I can write about in the next letter.

Your loving son,

AUGUST.

Sure Preventative of Skippers.

To keep skippers out of meat, first dip the meat in hot, boiling water and let it stay long enough to count five; then rub it well with a mixture of black ground pepper and corn meal. One cup of black pepper to two cups of meat, rub well while wet and hang up. It ought to be done the first week of March.

Center Shot.

A Cleveland Judge has handed down a decision to the effect that 11 o'clock is late enough for any man to sit up sparkling his best girl. He is right. If a man cannot talk himself dry and a girl crazy in three hours he has no business to have a talking equipment or a girl either.

A Big Mo.

A transfer company bought in Cincinnati recently what is to be the largest mine of its age in the world. It is three years old, measures 18 hands and 1 inch in height, and weighs 1,445 pounds. When fully grown he will, it is believed, be 20 hands high.

Dangers of the Grippe.

The greatest danger from LaGrippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough remedy given, all danger will be avoided. Among the tons of thousands who have this remedy for LaGrippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventative of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by J. W. Gayle.

True as Gospel.

"I never cheated an honest man," said the green goods dealer who finished his term in the penitentiary. The worst of the matter is he told the truth. The man who buys bogus money with the hope of getting rich through passing it off on others is as great a rogue as the man who sold him the green goods.

Mr. S. A. Flicker, Editor of the Miami (Fla.) Hunter, with his wife and children, suffered terribly from La Grippe. One Minute Cough Cure was the only remedy that helped them. It acted quickly. Thousands of others use this remedy as a specific for La Grippe, and its exhausting after effects. Tyler & Hemphill and W. McKeye Hardie,

A New Version.

Prof. H. A. Vaughan, the Owen News' punster, poet and wit, has rendered a new version of the Biblical story of Sodom and Gomorrah. He says: "When the prophet announced that Sodom would be destroyed by fire, the brass band of that thriving little city, in order to celebrate the approaching event, struck up the tune of 'There'll be a hot time in the old Town To-night,' and that Mrs. Lot, in her flight to safety, heard the music and could not resist the last opportunity of taking a bird's-eye view over her shoulder at her native city, and was immediately turned to a pillar of salt."

Morgantown's Scourge.

Spinal meningitis, or spotted fever, has decimated the town of Morgantown, Butler county. Some twenty-five deaths have occurred in the last week, and a large number of persons have been attacked by the dread scourge.

There is not a store, bank or hotel open in the town. There were but very few people left in the place and they are those who cannot get away.

There are not nurses enough for those down with the disease.

An appeal for help has been made by the physicians of the town.

Working Night and Day.

The briefest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pill. Every pill is sugar-coated globule of health, that changes weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fog into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

Naturally Gratiated.

The President and Cabinet, as well as those most anxious about the welfare of the country, were jubilant over the ratification of the treaty by the Senate on Monday.

It clears away all doubts as to the situation, and fears of European entanglements vanish likewise.

Governor's Mansion Damaged.

About 11 o'clock on yesterday morning an alarm called the fire boys to the Governor's Mansion. It was found that coal had rolled out of a grate in Gov. Bradley's room, on the second floor, and had burned through the floor, to the dining room below and also up through the ceiling under the roof. The roof was burned off. The extreme end hindered the firemen in their work, but they finally subdued the flames. The most of the furniture was removed, but in a damaged condition. But little in the Governor's room was saved.

The loss was about $5,000, with insurance to the amount of $5,500 on the house and $4,000 on the State's furniture.

Owing to the cold weather the alarm, although received by the firemen, was not struck on the fire bell, as the mechanism is put out of order by the cold that it will not strike.

LOUISVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.

FURNISHED BY GLOVER & DURRETT
LOUISVILLE TOBACCO WAREHOUSE.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amounted to 955 hds., with receipts for the same period of 2,906 hds. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 21,245 hds. Sales of the crop of 1888 on our market to that date amount to 29,562 hds.

No burley. The offerings this week have not included as many hds. of good to fine leaf as appeared last week, and the better grades which have offered have sold at prices ranging between $10 and $12 per 100 lbs. Common grades of the red type have shown a little more strength this week, while the colored trashies have remained steady at the improvement reported last week. The filler kind is getting from 10 to 12 lbs. per 100 lbs. more material market but have shown no material advance. The receipts have fallen off considerably during the past few days on account of the very cold weather, and the offerings will probably be smaller next week.

Old Burley: The sales during the week have included some fine grades of old burley which sold as high as $19.25. The grades selling from $10 down remained firm at the improvement reported last week.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco 1898 crop:

That Cough Hangs On

You have used all sorts of cough remedies but it does not yield; it is too deep seated. It may wear itself out in time, but it is more liable to produce la grippe, pneumonia or a serious throat affection. You need something that will give you strength and build up the body.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

will do this when everything else fails. There is no doubt about it. It nourishes, strengthens, builds up and makes the body strong and healthy, not only to throw off this hard cough, but to fortify the system against further attacks. If you are run down or emaciated you should certainly take this nourishing food medicine.

FRANKFORT, FEBRUARY 11, 1899.

Treaty Ratified.

According to agreement the U. S. Senate proceeded to vote on the ratification of the treaty of peace with Spain at 2:15 o'clock p. m. on Monday. The final vote stood as follows:

Yea—Adrich, Allen, Allison, Baker, Burrows, Butler, Carter, Chandler, Clark, Clay, Colton, Davis, Debow, Elkins, Fairbanks, Faulkner, Foraker, Frye, Giddings, Gear, Gray, Hanna, Hinsborough, Harris, Hawley, Jones (Nev.), Keeney, Kyte, Lindsay, Lodge, McBride, McElroy, McLaury, McMillan, Mantle, Mason, Morgan, Nelson, Penrose, Perkins, Petrus, Platt (Conn.), Platt (N. Y.), Pritchard, Ques, Ross, Sewell, Shoup, Simon, Spitzer, Stewart, Sullivan, Teller, Thurston, Warren, Wellington, Teller, Wolcott—57.

Nay—Bacon, Barto, Berry, Caffery, Clifton, Cockrell, Daniel, Gorman, Hale, Hefford, Hoar, Jones (Ark.), Mallory, Martin, Mills, McEach, Money, Murphy, Paseo, Pettigrew, Rawlings, Rosen, Smith, Tillman, Turley, Turner, Vest—27.

Absent and Polling—Messrs. Cannon and Wilson, for, with Mr. White against, and Messrs. Morris and Wetmore for, with Mr. Turpie against.

The gang that has thus written its own infamy in voting for national dishonor, should be blacklisted by the people forever and aye.

Death of Mrs. Susan A. Rodman.

Another of the few remaining citizens of this city, who did so much to give Frankfort her honored place in the history of the State for liberal hospitality and good fellowship in the days gone by, has gone to the great beyond.

Mrs. Susan A. Rodman, widow of that splendid man and skilled physician, Dr. Hugh Rodman, died in this city on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, aged 74 years.

Mrs. Rodman was, before her marriage, a Miss Barbour, of Oldham, Kentucky.

In early girlhood she was a handsome and commanding woman, and was happily married to Dr. Rodman, in LaGrange.

Not long after they removed to this city to reside, and made their home here until separated by the tragic hand of death, when her loved and honored husband was accidentally killed by being thrown from a buggy.

Mrs. Rodman was a woman of many fine traits of head and heart, being always of a happy and cheery disposition. She was the life and center of every circle in which she moved, and made fast friends of all who came to know her.

She was a life long member of the Presbyterian Church, and when called to face the last enemy, she was not afraid. That Savior, into whose keeping she had committed her life and loved ones in early youth, was her stay and support.

Some weeks since she was attacked with la grippe, which finally ran into pneumonia, and, although every thing that medical skill could suggest was done, she slowly sank until the end.

She leaves three sons (Dr. W. B. Rodman, of this city; Dr. John Rodman, of Waxahachie, Texas; and Lieut. Hugh Rodman, U. S. Navy), and two daughters (Mrs. Nannie Daval, of Newport, and Mrs. W. K. Wright, wife of Major Wright, U. S. A.), and a host of warmly attached relatives and friends to mourn her death.

The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, from the First Presbyterian Church, of which she had been a member for over 40 years, services being conducted by Rev. Dr. J. McClosky Blayney, her pastor, after which the remains were placed in the family lot in our cemetery.

A sad feature in this bereavement will be the fact that her gallant son, Lieut. Hugh Rodman, of the U. S. S. Raleigh (who was in all the battles with Admiral Dewey, at Manila, and who is now on his way home to visit his mother), will no longer be with us early in May. His home-coming will be far different from what we expected.

Our sincerest sympathy is extended to the bereft family. Our father and mother's friend, we were proud to claim her as ours also.

These are dangerous times for the health. Croup, colds and throat troubles lead to Consumption. A bottle of One Minute Cough Cure used at the right time will preserve life, health and a large amount of money. Pleasant to take; children like it. Tyler & Hemphill and W. McKea Hardie.

The Natural Result.

As was to have been expected from the assinine conduct of such U. S. Senators as Hour, Mason, Gorman, Daniel, Tillman, and others, the ignorant Philippians (who were kept posted by that traitor and spy Agnello, and who were led to believe that the attacks made upon the government by these men were bona fide and not "grand stand plays"), made an attack upon the American lines on Saturday night and Sunday.

They got just what they deserved—sound thrashing—and the American forces under Gen. Otis and Admiral Dewey are masters of the situation. We hold, and we doubt not, that the Senators who have delayed the ratification of the treaty, by their fierce and unmeaning attacks upon it and the government, are directly responsible for every drop of blood which has been shed.

As for Agnello, the dirty spy took time by the forelock and skipped for Canada so soon as he found out the ruin he and his associate traitors had wrought. Had he remained he would doubtless have been arrested as a spy or traitor and dealt with promptly as the exigencies of the case might arise.

Obituary.

Lines on the death of my little niece, Nannie Louise Mattern, who died Jan. 21, 1899, aged 4 years and 3 months.

Dear little "Nannie" is gone. The death of this lovely and promising child has cast a gloom over the hearts of the many friends who were associated with her during her short stay among us; for she was universally loved and petted by all.

The Rosebud of the household, joy has withered on earth to bloom in heaven. The little hands that now lie cold across her lifeless breast, have ceased to do little acts of kindness for "mammum" an' I "papa," whom she so much loved; but for above this earthly gloom, they will beckon us to celestial purity to that home above the clouds, where our Heavenly Father, who "carrieth his lambs in His bosom," has cared for her tenderly than those who loved her best here could have done.

Her frailty little nature has passed from innocent childhood to holy angelhood without the trials and temptations incident to a long life.

The promptest payment ever made here upon the death of a member by any fraternal organization was upon the death of Fred C. Koch, whose sudden and untimely death date is noted in another column. But—when and where will it be done? The outlook for its enforcement is about as promising as a snow ball in a certain warm region.

The Eighteenth Annual State Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of Kentucky will be held at Henderson, Ky., February 16-18, 1899. The State Committee has arranged a very strong and attractive program. Among the speakers are Right Rev. T. U. Dudley, D. Bishop of Kentucky; Rev. Carter Hein Jones, D. D., Mr. John L. Wheat, and Mr. W. L. McNair, of Louisville; Mr. Jas. A. Curry of Lexington; Mr. C. R. Boucher, of Owensboro; Rev. F. W. Harrup, of Maysville; Mr. E. C. Brownell, of Evansville, Ind.; Mr. C. K. Omer, Secretary International Committee, New York; Mr. E. W. Peck, State Secretary, Indiana; Mr. John Lake, South Carolina, and Mr. F. H. Burt, State Secretary, Illinois. The singing will be led by the Indiana Male Quartet.

A special rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip has been secured, and the Henderson Association will entertain all delegates. Large delegations from the thirty Associations of the State are expected, and young men from cities, towns, colleges, and railroad centers of the State having no Associations will be welcomed as honorary delegates if they obtain credentials from the State Secretary.

Further particulars, credentials, programs, etc., may be obtained of any Association Secretary in the State, or from Henry E. Roseve, or, State Secretary, Fourth and Broadway, Louisville, Ky.

For La Gripe.

Thomas Whitfield & Co., 140 Wabashave, corner Jackson-st., one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la grippe, as it not only gives a prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to become pneumonia. Unique Note.

We give below a note, which, for classic and witty conciseness we have seldom seen equalled:

"FRANKFORT, KY., Feb. 4, 1899.—
MY DEAR ———: In response to your note of this morning, I desire to say that the embargo on my exchequer, to which reference was made in my last letter of some months ago, now promises to be lifted within the next ninety days. Whereupon one of the first of my belated obligations, to which I shall apply the drastic remedy of yellow gold, will be your note.

In the meantime I trust you will accept assurances of my appreciation of your courteous patience.

"Very truly yours,

An Honest Medicine for La Gripe.

George W. Walker of South Grafton, Mass., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but have not been able to get rid of the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50-cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me; I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by J. W. Gayle.

"FRANKFORT, KY., Feb. 4, 1899.—
MY DEAR ———: In response to your note of this morning, I desire to say that the embargo on my exchequer, to which reference was made in my last letter of some months ago, now promises to be lifted within the next ninety days. Whereupon one of the first of my belated obligations, to which I shall apply the drastic remedy of yellow gold, will be your note.

In the meantime I trust you will accept assurances of my appreciation of your courteous patience.

"Very truly yours,
"JAS. W. BROWN."

JOHN T. BUCKLEY.

DEATHS.

CURRENT—At his home in Louisville, on Saturday, Mr. Farmer Current, son of Rev. J. H. Current and wife, and grandson of the late Mr. Thos. Farmer, of this county, aged 21 years.

Mr. Current was a promising young business man and his death is universally regretted. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

The funeral took place in Louisville and the remains were brought to this city Monday morning for interment in our cemetery.

WAIDE — At the home of his brother-in-law, Capt. B. W. Jenkins, in Louisville, on Wednesday, Mr. E. F. Waide, aged 77 years. Mr. Waide was well known in this city, where he was one of the proprietors of the Buhr and Merlwether Hotels. He was a member of the Methodist Church. He served one term as a member of the Legislature from the city of Louisville.

Frozen Out.

Owing to the extreme weather the motormen of the street cars were not able to run the cars on Thursday or yesterday. The snow was beaten down so hard on and by the side of the rails that the connection was very weak and insufficient.

The smallest things may exert the greatest influence. De Witt's Little Early Risers are unequalled for overcoming constipation and liver troubles. Small pill, best pill, safe pill. Tyler & Hemphill and W. McKee Hardie.

Court of Inquiry.

The President has appointed the following officers as the Court of Inquiry to the charges of Maj. Gen. Miles, commanding General of the army:

Major Gen. Jas. F. Wade, Brig. Gen. Geo. W. Davis, Col. Geo. L. Gillespie, Lieut.-Col. Geo. R. Davis.

The court will make a thorough investigation of the whole business.

Sad Death.

We regret exceedingly to learn that Mr. John M. Jameson, Jr., son of our old friend, Capt. John M. Jameson, died at his home in Mt. Sterling, Ky., on Wednesday last.

Mr. Jameson was Postmaster at Millersburg. He was a popular, bright young man and was beloved by all who knew him. He was in Paris on Monday to attend county court, was taken with a grippe and pneumonia that night and died on Wednesday.

We tender our sincere sympathy to the afflicted parents and friends.

Outrages.

The Philippines captured Dr. Young, a wounded American surgeon, in the Sunday fight, horribly mutilated him and then murdered him.

No wonder they did not understand why the Americans sought out and cared for their wounded enemies. That kind of things is incomprehensible to Spaniards or their half-breed progeny.

Bought a Home.

Mr. H. H. Roberts has purchased from Mrs. Martin French her cottage residence on Conway street, and will take possession the first of March.

Willow Valley.

Cold weather plentiful. Rain and snow is all the go, but we still keep up our visiting.

Miss Mallinda A. Chisholm visited her cousins, Misses Nona and Katie Sudduth, last Saturday and Sunday. Some of the young folks of our community serenaded Mr. W. B. Sudduth and wife last week. He being pleased with the music, he was stricken for a few moments, then after realizing what he had heard, jumped into the floor and danced a few steps, and regaining his consciousness, he came to the door with a smile on his face, as broad as my two hands, and welcomed them in. He says "come again young people, I have always room for music."

Well, spring will soon be here again, and moving will be great range. Mr. W. B. Sudduth will move to the farm of George H. Miller and Mr. Eugene Bryant will come to the farm of Arch Moore, which Ball now occupies.

We regret to say that some of our good neighbors are going to leave us. Among them are Mr. Leander Mitchell and family; Mr. Walter Mitchell and wife, and Mr. Price Mitchell and family. The Messrs. Mitchells are going beyond Bridgeport. We will miss our good neighbors, and especially Miss Mattie Mitchell, daughter of Mr. Leander, who is a favorite with many of our young gents of this section.

Quite an entertainment party was given by Mr. Clark. Wednesday last Thursday night at which every one present seemed to enjoy themselves very highly.

Mr. Wash. Sudduth and little son, Washington, visited Mr. Geo. Mitchell and family last Saturday.

Misses Desmona, Sidonia, and Myrtle Sudduth called on Miss Mattie Bryant last Saturday eve.

Died—Of typhoid pneumonia, Jan. the 6th, 1899, Mr. George M. Young, aged 23 years, son of Mr. George Young. He had been married about three months before his death to Miss Myrtle Clark. He leaves a wife, father, mother and three brothers to mourn his loss, while he has gone happily to meet his two darling baby sisters who have been awaiting him in the land of rest for many long, long years.

Weed not carelessly bereaved ones, thou God has taken it to a brighter world, more fitly prepared for it. He was prepared, as he told you he was not afraid to die, and only wished to take his dear little wife with him. He knew, from the beginning of his illness, that he would never recover and it was the treatise of this world, and he did not wish to remain here, but to take his loved one with him that she might not see any more of the trials and hardships which come to us all, but to go and forever be happy with him.

The funeral took place at Mt. Zion Church, of which George had been a member for some 3 or 4 years. Services were conducted by Rev. H. M. Polgrave, the pastor, after which the remains were laid away in the Stigons grave yard, near the Church.

Upon the valley's lap
The dewy morning throws
A thousand pebbly drops,
To make a single rose.

Thus, often in the course
Of life's few fleeting years,
A single pleasure costs
The soul a thousand tears.

But Perry, of Columbus, Ga., suffered agony for thirty years, and then cured his piles by using De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. It heals insects and skin diseases like magic. Tyler & Hemphill and W. McKee Hardie.

Mardi Gras.

On this account L. & N. will sell round trip tickets to New Orleans, Mobile and Birmingham Feb. 6 to 13 at one fare. Final limit Feb. 28.

Good Advice to Farmers.

Six good brood sows are enough for the average farmer to keep, and they should be kept as long as they will raise six good pigs. Manage them so they will raise two litters a year, making in all 72 hogs per year. One man can raise that many hogs and enough corn to feed them to a 300-pound weight. These at average prices, would bring $600, or about $50 a month the year round, on hogs alone; besides the revenue from his poultry, cattle, horses and sheep, which he ought to keep to use all the rough feed on the farm.

L. Grippe is again epidemic. Every precaution should be taken to avoid it. Its specific cure is One Minute Cough Cure. A. J. Shepherd Publisher Agricultural Journal and Advertising Elden, Mo. says: "No one will be disappointed in using One Minute Cough Cure for La Grippe, Pleasant to take, quick to act." Tyler & Hemphill and W. McKee Hardie.

A "Gaterwaul."

The "Intelligent compositor" is often blamed for the faults of the editor or author, but occasionally he makes an innocent paragraph appear startling. In a catalogue of fine chickens published up in Indiana, appears the advertisement of our friend, Tom McDonald, of Wade's Mill. After setting forth the merits of his fine chickens, the announcement ends with what should have been "Also breeder of Cotswold sheep." As it appears in the catalogue it reads "Also breeder of cats and woolly sheep." If he wishes to live up to his announcement as a breeder of cats he can easily stock up with an assortment of all ages, sexes, sizes and colors by visiting one of our alleys some moonlight night when a cat concert is in session.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Catarrh have given away over ten million dollars worth of patent medicine and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Ashtown, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, Chest and Lungs are surely cured by it. Call on J. W. Gayle, Druggist, and get a trial bottle. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

To Meet Here.

The Democratic Committee of the Second Railroad Commissioner's District met here on Thursday and called a convention to nominate a candidate for that office to meet here on Thursday, April 6th. Preemt meetings will be held April 1st and county conventions April 3d to appoint delegates.

Will be Away.

Dr. J. S. Coleman, specialist in the treatment of the eye and ear, will be away from home for some time away weeks after Monday, February 20th. Those wishing to consult him should be sure to do so before that time.

Dr. Coleman goes to Chicago to take up a special study of one of the phases of his work, and will be gone the length of time given above.
